U. S. Indicts Four Firms, 12 Persons in Nylon, Beer Black Markets

CHICAGO, May 31—(UP)—The Government cracked down Friday on what it described as a multi-million-dollar black market in beer and a major nylon stocking ring with indictments charging four firms and 12 persons with violations of OPA ceiling prices.

A Federal Grand Jury investigating beer black market operations extending throughout the South, indicted three breweries, a beer distributor and nine individuals on charges of over-ceiling sales of $242,500 worth of beer in the past two years.

In a separate action, another Federal Grand Jury indicted three Chicago men, charging 49 violations of ceiling prices in the sales of nylon and rayon hosiery which they allegedly obtained from three New York City firms. The New York companies now are under investigation, according to Asst. U. S. Dist. Atty. Robert C. Eardley.

Charged with conspiracy to violate beer price ceilings were:

The Koller Brewing Company, Chicago, and three officers, Joseph F. Koller, Lamont, Ill.; John [illegible]Cosgrove and Edward C. Steffen, Chicago. U. S. Dist. Atty. J. Albert Woll said evidence indicated the Company was involved in more than $100,000 over-ceiling sales since 1944.

The Best Brewing Company, Chicago, and two officers, Jerome and Joseph Hasterlik. The firm was charged with $40,000 in over-ceiling sales since 1944.

The Frederick's Brewing Company, Thornton, Ill., and Company Secretary Frank Frederick. The Company was charged on two counts with $2,500 in over-ceiling sales.

The Den-Mar Distributors, Chicago, and three officials, Craig Dennison, Philip Simon and Paul M. Montague, charged with $200,000 in over-ceiling sales.

During the beer investigation, dealers, distributors and retailers from several Southeastern and Southwestern communities appeared before the Grand Jury, Woll described the beer black market as a multi-million dollar operation. Additional indictments are expected.

LOS ANGELES, May 31.—(AP) A thousand pairs of nylon hose, destined for Hollywood movie studios, were stolen from a dyeing establishment Thursday night, the proprietor, Ben Ubovice, told police Friday. Ubovice valued the hose at $12,000.

Woll said the operations involve New York and Pennsylvania breweries, but that these phases have not yet been touched.

Three officials of the Rosmore Sales, Inc., Chicago, were indicted in the nylon-rayon case. They are Harry R. Rosner, President; Edward More, an executive, and Lawrence Kantro, salesman.

He said the firm sold nylon and rayon hosiery to 15 distributors who in turn made door-to-door sales. Nylons sold from $26 to $30 a dozen against a ceiling of $11.75 a dozen, he said. Rayons brought $16.50 a dozen, compared to an $8.75 ceiling, he said.

He said the three men are liable to a maximum fine of $280,000 or 112 years' imprisonment if convicted on all of the 49 counts.

Truman Senate Henchmen Brush Aside Taft's Attempt To Stall, Water Strike Bill

WASHINGTON, May 31—(UP)—Senate Administration forces, in a surprising show of strength, Friday defeated, 42 to 40, an attempt to shelve President Truman's emergency strike control bill for 10 days.

They also beat down, 45 to 35, an attempt by Sen. Taft, Republican, Ohio, to water down the bill by limiting the industries to which it would apply. Tait would have restricted the proposed emergency powers strike control to public utilities, transportation facilities, coal mines, steel mills and petroleum facilities.

The motion to shelve the bill temporarily was offered by Sen. Thomas, Democrat, Utah, who contended that such action would give the Senate time for more mature consideration of labor legislation.

He proposed that it be sent back to the Interstate Commerce Committee until June 10—five days before a scheduled strike by 200,000 maritime workers. Thomas said the bill could be brought out again if it is needed to cope with the shipping strike.

COALITION DOES IT

The move to sidetrack the bill was supported by a coalition of New Deal Democrats and conservative Republicans.

The narrow two-vote margin was a partial victory for President Truman who only Friday appealed to the Senate for speedy action on the bill. He received no response, however, on his request that the Senate restore his "work-or-draft" proposal.

Both Georgia Senators voted against the Taft proposal.

The Senate struck from the bill another Truman provision that profits from government-operated plants be turned in to the Treasury as miscellaneous receipts. It also defeated an amendment by Sen. Eastland, Democrat, of Mississippi, to prohibit a union involved in a strike against the Government from acting as collective bargaining agent for the workers for five years.

KEEPS SENIORITY CLAUSE

It also deleted, at Barkley's request, a provision which would have taken seniority rights away from any employe who went on strike during government operation of seized plants. Barkley said the provision was unfair to employes with long years of service and would tend to favor men with less seniority.

It defeated a motion by Sen. Pepper, Democrat, of Florida, to strike out provisions which would deprive workers of rights granted them by the National Labor Relations Act and the Railway Labor Act.

Pepper said he wanted to put the Senate on record as setting a precedent in forcing citizens to work by depriving them of legal rights.

DEBATES CASE VETO

The Senate then defeated, 52 to 28, a proposal by Sen. Ball, Republican, of Minnesota, which would have removed the President's authority to establish fair wages and other conditions of employment during Government operation. An earlier amendment to permit the President to make any wage changes offered by employers for bargaining purposes had been defeated, 77 to 2.

Mr. Truman also told his news conference that he is undecided whether to sign or veto the Case labor bill setting up restrictions on strikes in private industries.

In reaffirming his support of the draft provision in the emergency bill, Mr. Truman charged that it had been greatly misinterpreted.

He pointed out that it had long been the custom in this country, even in counties, to deputize citizens in event of a civil emergency. This, he said, was what he had in mind—not power to draft labor.

Winant, Soviet Split On Freedom of Press

NEW YORK, May 31—(AP)—John G. Winant, United States delegate to the United Nations Economic and Social Council, Friday took issue with a Russian assertion that the Council's commission on human rights had placed too much emphasis on freedom of information.

Soviet Delegate Nikolai J. Feonov criticized the report of the Human Rights Commission, headed by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, for proposing the immediate creation of a subcommission on freedom of information while leaving concrete action on other questions until a later date.

He said he believed it would be "quite incorrect" to put freedom of information ahead of such questions as the defense of minority groups and the elimination of discrimination on the basis of race, religion, sex and language.

Winant, on the other hand, congratulated the Commission on its report and said:

"My Government considers that material progress toward the ultimate attainment of universal freedom of information is of the utmost importance if the United Nations is to achieve the purpose for which it has been established. We regard the establishment of the subcommision as essential to the attainment of this purpose."

During a lengthy debate on the report on Human Rights, several delegates, including Winant, also disagreed with the Soviet representative on the manner in which the permanent commissions of the Economic and Social Council should be formed.

Feonov argued that members of the commissions should represent the various governments in the United Nations, while Winant, British Delegate Philip J. Noel-Baker and others contended they should be non-governmental experts.

Another disagreement developed over a proposal of Belgian Delegate Fernand Dehousse that the Council should sponsor an international convention under which the press of all nations would be compelled to publish verbatim all communiques issued by the United Nations.

Possible Billion-Pound Reduction In '47 Meat Production Forecast

WASHINGTON, May 31—(AP)—The nation's 1947 supply of meats may fall a billion pounds below this year's inadequate output as a result of feed grain shortages and [illegible] increases in ceiling prices [illegible] feeds.

This forecast was made Friday by the Agriculture Department in a report which estimated that Americans, if they could, would buy an average of 15 to 20 pounds more meat this year than will be available.

Next year's supply of all classes of meat—beef, pork, lamb and mutton—is expected to be below this year's level.

In other reports on the food situation, the Department declared sales of butter at black market prices increased this month despite a modest Spring season increase in production, and that large meat packers continue to be outbid on the bulk of beef cattle reaching principal markets.

In the case of buttter, the Department estimated May production will be 30 percent below a year ago and 50 percent below May, 1941. It said a principal cause of this decline has been the existence of a more profitable market for cream.

Officials expressed hope that a new dairy price program—announced Wednesday by the Office of Economic Stabilization—will encourage creameries to convert more cream into butter.

The price program will boost the price of butter about 11 cents a pound, will place ceilings on cream and will ban, after July 1, the sale of whipping cream.

Black market slaughter and sale of meats apparently is continuing despite a Government slaughter control program designed to halt these illegal operations.

The Department estimated this year's production of meat will total 22,900,000,000 pounds, or about 2,000,000,000 less than the record output of 1944. Exports of meat this year are expected to exceed the 1,200,000,000 pounds in 1945, but will be considerably below the 5,500,000,000 pounds shipped in 1943.

"The hog-corn price ratio declined rapidly in May. This came at a time when hog breeding for Fall farrowing was in full swing. As a result, the number of fall pigs saved this year will be materially less than the number saved in the fall of 1945," the Department report said.

The Department said that if hog and corn prices continue at present ceilings during the Summer and early Fall, the hog-corn price ratio will be about 20 percent below the 1925-44 average for that period. It added that such an unfavorable ratio would cause a sharp reduction in hog production, especially if returns to dairy producers are increased during the second half of 1946, as now seems likely.

U. S. and British Charge Romania With Flouting Election Promises

WASHINGTON, May 31—(UP) The United States and Great Britain in sharp parallel notes have accused the Russian-dominated Romanian government of flouting promises to hold fair elections and have demanded immediate action to fulfill commitments, it was announced Friday night.

Acting together in a thrust behind the Soviet Union's "Iron Curtain" in Southeastern Europe, the American and British Governments in concert asserted that Romania was cheating in every way to avoid carying out promises it made in January to a Big Three Commission which was sent there as a result of the Moscow Foreign Ministers conference in December.

Failure to set a date for elections, improper censorship, suppression of opposition newspapers, unfair use of radio for propaganda, organized violence against the opposition and taking of decisions by a cabinet clique instead of the full cabinet were among the accusations.

The American and British notes were handed to the Romanian Foreign Ministry Monday by Burton Y. Berry, American Diplomatic representative in Bucharest, and Adrian Holman, British Minister.

By what might have been a coincidence—and might not have been—the Moscow radio, heard in London, said Monday night that Premier Petre Groza, of Romania, had announced his government was drafting an election law and had denied a "rumor" that the elections would be postponed until after a peace conference had been held.

Moscow cited Romanian newspaper articles in which the Minister of Justice said the law would abolish the Senate, give the vote to women and provide proportional representation.

The London Daily Telegraph reported Premier Groza as saying that elections would be held in August or early September if not sooner provide preparations were completed.

". . . A definte impression is being created abroad concerning the present Romanian government," the United States note said. "The impression is that . . . while trying to give the appearance of carrying out the Moscow decisions, it is in reality circumventing commitments it has made. My government . . . has an interest in seeing that this impression is dispelled.

"Accordingly, it is believed that a different impression will be attained through prompt action on the part of the Romanian government in implementing the assurances given the Allied Commission in January by promulgating an electoral law and setting a date for elections, at the same time taking adequate measures during this period prior to elections that all democratic parties may put forward their candidates with the assurance that the freedoms set forth in the Moscow decisions apply equally to all members of all such parties."

Compliance by Romania with the demands would be calculated to decrease the dominance of extreme left-wing parties and therefore of Russia in Romanian life.

Britain's closely parallel note said: as transmitted in London dispatches:

". . . Assurances . . . are not being satisfactorily implemented by the Romanian government either in the letter or in the spirit. Although the Romanian government may have endeavored to give the outward appearance of carrying out their obligations, in actual practice means have invariably been found to circumvent each of the assurances.

". . . His Majesty's government views with increasing anxiety the continuation of existing conditions . . . and requests that immediate steps should be taken . . . to correct various abuses . . . and to promulgate an election law and fix and early date for an election."

Angry Maritime Unions Charge, Blame Truman

WASHINGTON, May 31—(AP)—Maritime Unions threatening a strike June 15 declared Friday night that President Truman had "fired a torpedo into the negotiations" for a peaceful settlement.

They said that the President's comment to a news conference Friday that he would use the Army and Navy to operate the ships if necessary was an invitation to the operators to be "tough" and refuse a settlement.

The Unions added, however, that they still hoped the issue of their dispute could be negotiated and would "continue their efforts despite President Truman's outright declaration of full support to the ship operators before the negotiations have started."

A statement, given to a news conference by Harry Bridges and Joseph Curran as co-chairmen of a union "committee for maritime unity," asserted:

"The torpedo President Truman sent into the conferences eventually will have effects he never expected. It ultimately will explode, to the detriment of his Administration, his party and any future presidential ambitions he might entertain at the present time."

It concluded by expressing hope that the American people would make the President see that he needed a "cooling-off period between his strike-breaking activities."

The statement said the seven unions were called to Washington at Government request to confer with the operators and "utilize all peaceful procedures" to avert the threatened strike. Then it added:

"President Truman today, in utter disregard of the facts of the negotiations and in spite of Secretary (of Labor) Schwellenbach's appeal for no inflammatory statements, has fired a torpedo into the negotiations. By notifying the operators that he will break any strike, he has encouraged the operators to refuse a reasonable settlement in the current negotiations."

Bridges and Curran further asserted that the President "has turned his back on his and the Democratic party's pledge to American seamen to support their struggle for a reduction of their working week from a 56-to-63-hour week to one of 40 hours."

This reduction in hours, they declared, "is the main issue in dispute."

Mr. Truman Friday morning said that the chances of avoiding the maritime strike look very dark but he will go as far as the law allows to keep the ships running in event of a walkout.

ICC Wants Dixie Rate Cut Put in Now

WASHINGTON, May 31—(UP). The Interstate Commerce Commission Friday asked the Supreme Court for permission to put its new freight rates into effect without delay.

It asked the Court to set aside a 60-day stay order recently issued by a three-judge court in Utica, N. Y., which upheld the new rate schedule, but insisted on the delay in putting it into effect.

Supreme Court Justice Stanley F. Reed, assured ICC that the Court would give every consideration to the request.

The new rate schedule was ordered in May, 1945, after a six-year investigation. Southern States have charged that the old rates favored Northern industrialists and worked hardship on Southern industry.

Nine Northern States, supported by Western Railroads, filed suit to have the order vacated.

The revised rates would provide for a 10 percent decrease in the rate for basic freight shipments in the South and Middle West and an increase of 10 percent in Northern rates.

Reed said that other parties would have until next Thursday to answer the ICC's argument that the delay order be vacated.

Bankhead Unchanged

WASHINGTON, May 31—(AP)—The Naval Hospital reported there was no change Friday in the condition of Sen. Bankhead, Democrat, of Alabama. The Senator suffered a stroke last week.

'YOU'RE NO GLIDER'

CAA Blocks 'Batman' In Zoom-Off Stunt

By DORIS LOCKERMAN

P. L. Ray, a self-styled batman, ran up against those bureaucrats with a "lack of sense of adventure" at the Civil Aeronautics Authority yesterday and they told him he positively could not attach himself to an airplane and zoom off into the air on his roller skates.

Not in Atlanta, the authority said, nor any other airport it controlled.

In fact, the CAA told Batman Ray coldly his whole idea of dressing up in a bat suit and strapping roller skates on his webbed feet and soaring up 3,000 or so feet into the air and floating down on his little cloth wings, seemed mighty peculiar.

"Besides," members said, "how could we classify you on a waiver if we did give you permission to take off? You are, Mr. Ray, no glider. You are no airplane. You are no balloon."

Waiverless, Batman Ray hurried to the airport. He roamed around the field all day hoping to hitch onto the tail of some plane piloted by an old-fashioned flier who remembered the days when Clem Sohn, the original batman, made a good living doing what Ray hoped to do . . . minus the roller skates. Sohn just sat in the plane when it took off and dived out when it got way up.

"Hasn't anyBody got a sense of adventure these days?" Ray inquired. "Why I hold the world's record for parachute jumping. I have made 1,161 jumps. I have been flying 26 years, for every airline in America and some in Europe, including the British Imperial.

"And these guys ground me because of those little skates. Why they are super-skates! They will go 120 miles an hour without burning up! And I only planned to be towed about 70 . . ."

At nightfall, Batman Ray had not given up his experiment in aerodynamics. He was oiling up his ball-bearings and fluttering his wings, just in case somebody would let him hitch onto a plane and soar up behind it.

Cloudy, Warm and Rain To Greet Georgia's June

For the first day of June the weatherman offers Georgia—"increasing cloudiness, contiued warm, and scattered showers in the North portion."

Several Injured As Bus Blows Tire

Constitution State News Service.

LOUISVILLE, May 31—A number of passengers were bruised or slightly injured when a Southern State Bus blew a tire near here Friday afternoon and ran down an embankment.

The injured were removed to a physician's office in Louisville for treatment. Later the passengers were transferred to another bus and continued to their Macon destination.

The driver of the wrecked bus said a blowout caused the coach to leave the highway.

Truman Names Hanrahan For Securities Post

WASHINGTON, May 31—(AP)—President Truman Friday nominated Edmond M. Hanrahan, of New York, to be a member of the Securities and Exchange Commission for a term expiring June 5, 1947.

Anthracite Parleys Report No Gain As Strikers End First Idle Day

NEW YORK, May 31—(AP)—Three-man negotiating subcommittees of the United Mine Workers (AFL) and anthracite operators, meeting on the first day of an industry-wide walkout by 76,000 Pennsylvania hard coal miners, failed Friday to produce agreement on any point after a three-hour discussion.

The session marked the beginning of the fourth week of contract talks.

At a news conference following the session, Thomas Kennedy, UMW Secretary-Treasurer, said:

"The subcommittees discussed wages, the health and welfare program, and related subjects which involved practically all the propositions which the miners have made. There were no conclusions."

Kennedy declined "to be more specific" when asked to express in detail the proposals discussed.

Both sides agreed that the miners' walkout was completely effective.

The subcommittees meet again at 10 a. m. EDT Saturday.

The strike—ninth major anthracite shutdown since the turn of the century — became effective Thursday midnight.

The immediate effect was to deprive the nation's winter fuel stockpile of an estimated 210,000 tons of hard coal a day.

A possible hint that no early break was expected in the deadlock was seen in an announcement in Washington that UMW Chief John L. Lewis — traditionally a leading participant in the anthracite talks—was not expected to join the meetings until next week.

In Washington it also was reported that President Truman had been counseled against Government seizure of the mines, as in recent bituminous coal strike, on the hope that anthracite operators would agree to terms similar to those of the new soft coal contract.

Nature of the conversations was being kept strictly secret and spokesmen had nothing to say concerning a report that the miners had demanded a five-day week with continuation of their six-day pay and a $10,000,000 a year, industry-supported health and welfare fund.

Thomas Kennedy, UMW Secretary-Treasurer, said that as late as two days ago no specific proposals had been presented to the operators; that discussion had dealt with the new contract only in general terms.

Maintenance work by an estimated 5,000 miners continued in the collieries to protect the property from flooding and cave-ins and there were no reports of disturbances in the first day of the strike.

Dr. Burch To Assume Control Of Atlanta TB Program Today

Dr. J. C. Burch, Superintendent of Battle Hill Tuberculosis Sanatorium and one of the best-known tuberculosis experts in the South, will assume charge of the Tuberculosis Control Program of the City Health Department today.

Dr. James F. Hackney, Director of the Health Department, announced the appointment yesterday.

The Tuberculosis Control Division was established last July, but Dr. Hackney has moved slowly in the selection of a director because of his desire to obtain the best personnel available. He expressed gratification that Dr. Burch has been induced to accept the post. Since the division was established, Dr. Hackney has operated it along with his other duties while searching for an acceptable Division head.

Dr. Burch said the Division will co-operate with health agencies and the Fulton County Medical Society in the work of discovery and treatment of the disease. He said X-rays of chests of Atlantans will become increasingly more available and that places where large groups of people are concentrated will be given a priority rating in the effort. He added that all food handlers will be X-rayed, explaining that food is an easy medium for spreading the disease, and he hoped to reduce that danger.

Dr. Burch was graduated from the Maryland University Medical College, took special courses at the Trudeau School of Tuberculosis, and the Fitzsimmons General Hospital, and spent years specializing in discovery and treatment of the disease.

He served as Assistant Superintendent of Alto Tuberculosis Hospita, and as Assistant Superintendent of Battle Hill, where he served under the late Dr. Joe Bradfield. When Dr. Bradfield died in 1939, Dr. Burch succeeded him.

Dr. Burch is a member of the Fulton County Medical Society, the Georgia State Medical Association, a fellow of the American College of Chest Physicians, the American Trudeau Society and the National and State Tuberculosis Associations.

Communist To Be Czech Premier, Prague Hears As Fighting Surges

PRAGUE, May 31—(UP)—The Central Committee of the Communist Party announced Friday night that a Communist would accept the premiership of Czechoslovakia.

The announcement did not identify the Communist who will attempt to form a new cabinet, but he was believed to be Klement Gottwald, chief of the Communist Party here.

Leaders of other parties must approve the Communist decision, however, as the government will continue to be one of coalition, according to the program agreed upon by the present National Front coalition before last Sunday's elections.

Other parties which make up the National Front are the Czech National Socialists, the People's Party, the Social Democrats, the Democrats, the Freedom Party and the Labor Party.

Meanwhile, eyewitness reports from the provincial capital of Bratislava said Friday that serious fighting had broken out there as an election aftermath, with angry Communists attacking members of the victorious right-wing Slovak Democratic Party and demanding its dissolution.

Fighting and extensive Communist demonstrations have been going on for two days, the reports said, and are continuing. At 1 p. m. Friday the Communists called a sudden general strike that paralyzed the city by halting transport. Printing plants were idle and it was doubtful if newspapers would appear Saturday.

Increasing Communist dissatisfaction with the results of the election, which gave the Slovak Democrats an absolute majority of more than 60 percent, flared into open violence Thursday when fighting started on a football field after a match between Bohemia and Slovakia.

Carmichael Promises Education Expansion

By JOHN COURIC
Constitution Staff Writer.

ATHENS, May 31—Calling an expansion of educational facilities the "surest hope for improving the economic conditions of Georgia," Gubernatorial Candidate Jimmie Carmichael Friday promised college students here his support of higher appropriations for schools.

In a speech delivered from a stand in front of the University of Georgia's historic Campus Arch, Carmichael declared there must be more money for teachers' salaries, for classrooms and for other facilities to enable Georgia youth to compete in the coming era.

Such a program of expansion would require additional taxes, he said, adding, however, that the people should be given the opportunity to pass upon any tax increase.

AUDIENCE OF 3,500

A crowd of approximately 3,500, composed largely of college students from various Georgia institutions, heard Carmichael pledge his support to the expanded program of education, and tell them also that the problem of caring for veterans in colleges must be accomplished immediately through additional federal aid.

"I also intend to see that we maintain and improve our co-ordinated system of education, and I do not intend to make it a hodgepodge mystic maze of junior colleges that cannot possibly maintain accredited standing," he said, attacking both the former Governors who oppose him. Carmichael said Georgians would never be content to go back to "their days of graft and corruption."

REPEATS HIS PROMISE

He reiterated his promises to continue "honesty, decency and good government" in Georgia and called upon the students to carry the fight into every town and street.

Carmichael declared Georgia youth is now competing in an "era of know-how" when expert knowledge, efficiency and intelligence are the measure of jobs and pay.

"You have a right as young citizens to expect the best from your State, because you are its future," he said. "Every child in Georgia has a right to expect the best education the State can possibly provide. I intend to see that you get it."

"I also intend to see that we maintain and improve our co-ordinate system of education and I do not intend to make it a hodgepodge, mystic maze of junior colleges that cannot possibly maintain acredited standing. One of my opponents, 'Bouncing Bow Tie,' is making all sorts of fantastic promises about the educational system. Why, the next thing you know he'll be promising to put a junior college on every street corner.

"GOLD-BRICK" PROMISES

"You know full well that 'Little Black Bow Tie's' promises are nothing but 'gold bricks' with which he is trying to buy your votes and your parents' votes.

Carmichael was introduced by John E. Sheffield, of Quitman, University Campus Leader.

Delegations which arranged to attend the student rally were from Georgia Tech, Emory University, Georgia Evening College, Atlanta Junior College, West Georgia College, LaGrange College, Mercer University, Georgia State College for Women, Agnes Scott College, Oglethorpe University, Georgia Teachers' College, Norman Junior College and Piedmont College.

George Doss, University of Georgia student from Canton, served as master of ceremonies for the rally sponsored by the Student Voters' League. Frank Wesley, of Brunswick, another University of Georgia student, extended a welcome to the visiting college students, while J. O. (Buddy) Paine, of Georgia Tech and Valdosta, presented the gubernatorial candidate with a campaign hat.

OTHER STUDENT SPEAKERS

Other students who spoke were Hank Decourt, Georgia Tech, of Savannah, and Miss Janet Fowler, of Milledgeville, a GSCW student. student.

Three GSCW girls, impersonating the major gubernatorial candidates, were introduced, and one, Miss Doris Helton, of Atlanta, who was garbed in the outfit of Candidate Eugene Talmadge, spoke.

Representing Candidate Eurith D. Rivers was Miss Harriet Thorpe, of Macon, while Miss Celia Stevens, of Dalton, portrayed Carmichael.

JUST WAIT—

OPA Orders Necessary for Milk Hikes

Although price increases on milk and other dairy products, including butter, have already been announced as forthcoming, Atlanta buyers will not have to pay them this weekend.

Regional OPA officials reminded the public yesterday that price increases are not effective until such orders have been issued by OPA.

Informed that some dairies have already notified customers that prices would be advanced today, Edwin M. Pearce, Regional Price Executive, said such premature upping of prices will be "illegal."

"The Office of Economic Stabilization has directed OPA to grant price increases on June 1, or as soon thereafter as actual orders can be issued," he pointed out. "Since there will be a number of orders to issue, this cannot be done in one or two days' time. The national office of OPA is drafting the price increase orders and will complete them as rapidly as possible."

Atlanta producers, wholesalers and retailers can expect issuance of orders advancing retail prices of milk by one cent per quart, butter by approximately 10 cents per pound, and cheddar cheese by five cents per pound—"within a few days," Pearce said.

Mrs. Sullivan, 91, PWS 'Mother,' Dies in Hospital

Mrs. Georgiana Kay Sullivan, 91, of 77 Peachtree Memorial Dr., official Mother of the Pioneer Women's Society of Atlanta, died yesterday in a private hospital, following an illness of several weeks.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a. m. today at Sacred Heart Church, with Father John Emmerth officiating. Burial will be in Oakland Cemetery.

Mrs. Sullivan was born in Atlanta in 1855, the daughter of William and Mary Kay, and lived here all her life, including the duration of the War Between the States and the Battle of Atlanta.

The widow of Maurice Sullivan, she was a member of the Atlanta Woman's Club, the Atlanta Historical Society and Sacred Heart Church.

She is survived by two sons, W. R. and J. Graham Sullivan, of Marietta; a grandson, J. Wentworth Sullivan, of Marietta, and several great-grandchildren, nieces and nephews.

W. R. McGehee Rites Will Be Held Today

Funeral services for William Roy McGehee, 45, of 1710 Cornell Rd., N. E., an assistant professor of history at Georgia Tech, who died Thursday in a private hospital, will be held at 10:30 a. m. today in the Theology Chapel at Emory University. Dr. Edward G. Mackay will officiate. Burial will be in Barnesville.

Mr. McGehee, a native of Mulberry, Tenn., was at one time an instructor of history and social sciences at Georgia Southwestern College in Americus. He later acted as assistant professor of history at Emory University before going to Georgia Tech several years ago.

'Miss America,' Anatomy Draped, Scores at Piano

NEW YORK, May 31—(INS)—Bess "Miss America" Myerson, five feet, ten inches of brunette loveliness, walked on the stage at sedate Carnegie Hall Friday night and wowed 'em—with, of all things, a piano and Rachmaninof.

The winner of the 1945 Atlantic City beauty contest put aside her bathing suit for the night and displayed, instead, her musical prowess, covering every inch of her prize-winning torso—except head, feet and hands—with an unrevealing, loose-fitting, white crepe evening gown.

Miss Myerson, extremely serious about her music, to which she intends to devote the $5,000 prize she won as Miss America, appeared as piano soloist at the New York Philharmonic "Pop" (popular) concert. She said it was a greater thrill than winning the beauty contest.

Union 'Officials' Indicted for Murder Attempt

Three Indictments against W. T. Archer and Hop T. Locke, said to be officials of the Truck Drivers' and Helpers' Local 728, have been returned by the Fulton County Grand Jury. One indictment alleged assault with intent to murder Ben Lyons, Atlanta policeman, by shooting at him while he was on guard at the Washburn Storage Company, 268 Marietta St., on May 25.

This indictment cited the fact that Archer, on last December 13, was convicted of shooting at W. H. Duke and sentenced to prison.

Archer and Locke were also jointly indicted for malicious mischief on May 26 when they are alleged to have broken plate glass windows at the offices of the Weathers Brothers Transfer Company, Inc., 505 West Peachtree St. The two were also jointly indicted for illegal possession of a pistol.

Jackson Proposes GrossIncomeLevy

Levy of a gross income tax on all incomes derived in Atlanta to finance highway and airport and possibly library improvements now provided in the joint Atlanta-Fulton County bond issue will be proposed in City Council Monday by Councilman James E. Jackson.

A resolution providing for creating an authority to administer those improvements from receipts derived from a payroll and other income tax has been drawn by Jackson, he announced yesterday.

Jackson said the bond proposal contemplates that Atlanta's tax rate must be increased to the maximum now allowed by law, a procedure which he said is dangerous to other improvements which may be mandatory in the future.

At present, the county bond issue proposal calls for $13,500,000 for highways and $1,000,000 for airports. The city proposals include $4,100,000 for highways, $3,000,000 for airports and $1,700,000 for library improvements.

Navy Heads Dedicate Fever Unit

By SARAH ORR,
Constitution State News Service

DUBLIN, May 31—V. Adm. Ross T. McIntire, several other high U. S. Naval officials and prominent State and County legislators gathered here Friday to dedicate the first Naval medical research unit for the study of rheumatic fever.

Adm. McIntire, for whom the center was named; Rep. Carl Vinson, chairman of the Naval Affairs Committee; Dr. James E. Paullin, consultant to the Surgeon General, and other top Navy officials addressed visitors gathered from throughout the state on the purpose of the new center and on the nature of the treacherous disease, which annually takes its toll among thousands of the nation's youth.

The Admiral declared that laboratory and clinical work will be carried on for peacetime health. Rep. Vinson complimented the noted Naval hero for his foresight and planning and praised Dr. Paullin for his advice and faithful work.

Vinson characterized the 1,000-bed hospital, dedicated to life-saving and rehabilitation, as "one of the most soul-satisfying projects in which I have ever had a part."

The group investigated the laboratory facilities and later attended a barbecue lunch served in the hospital galley.

Arnall Will Meet With Vet Groups

Gov. Arnall will meet today with the State Board of Veterans' Service and the Veterans' Education Council to work out a joint program for expediting arrangements for giving veterans on-the-job training.

With friction having developed between the two boards, the Education Council has threatened to resign unless a joint program can be worked out by June 15.

Arnall said he was calling the two groups together in an effort to make all arrangements necessary for handling the training program and veterans' applications efficiently.

Talmadge Offers Voters Dinner on Mansion Lawn

By M. L. ST. JOHN,
Constitution Staff Writer.

ROCHELLE, May 31—Ex-Gov. Talmadge, who recently promised young people gondolas in the moonlight, Friday held out a new vote enticement to meet hungry Georgians:

A free dinner on the Executive Mansion lawn at State expense if he is elected.

Hitting at the exclusive manner which he and ex-Gov. Rivers charged Gov. Arnall was operating the mansion today, Talmadge told a Wilcox County audience:

"When I ran for Governor before, I invited you people to come up to Atlanta and bring me a ham. Some of you did. Ham is mighty scarce these days. This time I want you to come to the mansion and have dinner on the lawn. We'll trample down the grass and eat, if I have to send down to Tattnall Prison and get the hogs."

In another part of his address, Talmadge charged that most of the old-age pensions are going to young people. The State is raising salaries of young administrators and inspectors, and the old folks are not getting their pension money.

He added that if he were elected he would match Federal funds for pensions to the limit.

Talmadge, looking at Atlanta newsmen whom he had invited to sit on the stage behind him, predicted that the papers wouldn't say between 600 and 700 persons stood in the hot sun to hear him Friday. He again threatened to start a daily paper himself.

Walter Stone, Wilcox County School Superintendent, introduced Talmadge. He praised the ex-Governor for paying the schoolteachers after ex-Gov. Rivers had defaulted, and he lauded Talmadge for "smoking out" Gov. Arnall on the 50 percent pay raise for teachers. Talmadge declared that he, and not Rivers, actually bought Georgia's first free textbooks. He said that Rivers provided the State with its first "free school-teachers."

Talmadge asked Wilcox County to purge from the voters' lists some 550 Negroes.

Earlier in the day at Perry, Talmadge divided his time between addressing a small Houston County audience in front of him and talking to newspaper reporters seated on the stage behind him.

Sam Nunn, of Perry, leader of the Independent Democratic Party that supported Talmadge over Roosevelt in 1940, introduced Talmadge.

Nunn called to the stage Cooper Etheridge, editor of the Houston Home Journal, which this week said editorially "the Home Journal has nothing good to say for Mr. Talmadge, so we will say nothing"; M. L. St. John, of The Atlanta Constitution, object of an extended editorial campaign of criticism from Talmadge's Statesman, and L. P. Patterson, of the Atlanta Journal.

Talmadge charged that the Atlanta papers are controlled by Secretary of Commerce Henry Wallace and declared we will take the ink from their pens on July 17. The candidate challenged The Constitution to print his claims that Henry Grady, its famed editor during Reconstruction Days, led the the Ku Klux Klan that chased the Negroes and carpetbaggers from the Georgia State Capitol.

Talmadge promised Georgians they would have a white primary for at least four years if he is elected. He said his position on the racial issue is that "the Nigger" should come to the back door with his hat in his hand.

Houston County, which alternated its support between Talmadge and Rivers, went for Talmadge over Arnall in 1942. Its registration has tripled recently.

Pelicans Larrup Crackers In Final Tilt, 9 to 4

SPORTS

Cuylermen, Barons Vie On Sunday

By F. M. WILLIAMS,
Constitution Staff Writer.

PELICAN STADIUM, NEW ORLEANS, May 31—The Crackers finally dropped a game to New Orleans, losing the final of the series here Friday night, 9 to 4.

The defeat left Atlanta only four games ahead of the Chattanooga Lookouts, who were rained out.

Dewey Adkins was the victim of the Pelican base-hit barrage, being charged with his fifth loss against four victories.

Jesse Danna, former Cracker, wasn't too big a problem for Cracker hitters, but his mates gave him an early comfortable lead and he coasted home for his fourth victory. He had to have relief in the ninth, however, when the Crackers threatened slightly.

Lloyd Gearhart was the leading Cracker hitter, getting two triples and a single in five trips. The fleet outfielder has been hitting consistently since the Crackers left home.

Friday's victory was the first in six starts against the Crackers for Manager Johnny Peacock's club. The league leaders took the series, two games to one, making it nine straight series they have won.

New Orleans was helped to victory by sloppy fielding by the Crackers, who committed five errors.

The Crackers leave by bus Saturday morning for Birmingham, where they open a five-game series with a double-header Sunday.

Get Tickets Early Advises Butts

Coach Wally Butts, exuding professional pessimism here last night over Georgia's 1946 football schedule, warned the more than 200 members of the Atlanta Chapter of the University Alumni Association to get their tickets early to beat the greatest advance sale in history.

"To date," Butts said, "we've sold $150,000 worth of tickets, and we expect it to be $250,000 by September."

The Bulldog coach, expressing dissatisfaction with spring practice, announced he will call a special training session June 17, to run an undetermined length of time.

The organization re-elected President Frank Troutman and Vice Presidents J. E. Denmark and Preston Upshaw. Other officers elected are Harvey Hill, Vice President; Sim Bray, Jr., Secretary, and Byron E. (Jack) Griffith, Treasurer.

Assault Picked In Belmont Race

By SED FEDER

NEW YORK, May 31—(AP)—The triple crown, a paycheck of close to $80,000 and a spot among racing's top dozen money winners will be waiting for Assault at the finish of the Belmont tomorrow, and it appeared about all the Clubfoot Comet had to do to collect was to show up.

At least the chocolate champ of the Derby and Preakness was the fanciest glamor boy entered in the field of 10 at Belmont today for tomorrow's seventy-eighth running of the ancient mile and a half, "third gem" of the triple crown, which is expected to bring out a crowd of 50,000.

There were still some who tabbed Lord Boswell and Hampden and Mahout as threats to the Texas Terror. But in spite of the customary cavalry-charge stretch rush of "the Lord of Maine Chance Farm" and the ability of the other two to get out there and hustle in the early going, it still was Assault as the standout to become the seventh triple crown winner in all history.

This would be going his daddy one better. His old man, Bold Venture, got past the Derby and Preakness without too much trouble just 10 years ago, then took to ailing and couldn't keep his date in the American version of the English Darby out here on Long Island.

Except for Lord Boswell and Hampden, the Delaware Dandy, and Mahout, the Philadelphia surprise package who beat Lord B. in the Peter Pan last Saturday, the rest of the field appears to be just along to get the air. However, there's some support for Natchez, who will be hooked up with Mahout as Mrs. Walter Jeffords' entry. Rounding out the collection are Manor Lad, Cable, Cedar Creek, War Watch and the Canadian sprinter, Windfields.

Horn in Money Seven in Row

His stirring third-place finish in Thursday's 500-mile auto classic at Indianapolis bolsters Ted Horn's reputation of being the most consistent money winner in the history of the annual event.

The Paterson, N. J., speed driver, who returns to Atlanta tomorrow to race in the AAA-sanctioned big car races at Lakewood Park, holds the shining distinction of having finished up with the Indianapolis winners seven consecutive times.

After unplacing in his initial venture in 1935, Horn roared to second place in 1936 behind Lou Meyer, the California Comet, who was a three-time winner. Horn took third place in the annual classic in 1937; was fourth in 1938-39-40, and third again in 1941, when the war dropped the curtain on the event for the duration.

Along with Horn on tomorrow's Lakewood program will be such big-time auto racers as "Dapper Duke" Nalon, Los Angeles, Cal., and Joie Chitwood, Reading, Pa., each of whom were starters in Thursday's Indianapolis race.

Purple Racquetmen Down Smithies, 6-0

Boys' High closed its tennis season Thursday afternoon with a shutout victory over Tech High.

The Purples did not drop a set in sweeping the six matches.

The results:

Singles—Fowler (B) defeated Braswell (T), 7-5, 6-3; French (B) defeated Purcell (T), 6-3, 7-5; Brown (B) defeated Rauschenberg (T), 6-0, 6-2; Folk (B) defeated Griffith (T), 6-4, 6-3.

Doubles—Fowler and French (B) defeated Braswell and Purcell (T), 6-0, 6-0; Ayers and Davenport (B) defeated Rauschenberg and Griffith (T), 6-2, 6-1.

Ben Hogan Far Ahead In Round-Robin Event

By BILL BONI

MAMARONEK, N. Y., May 31—(AP)—Ben Hogan, old Mr. Consistency himself at this stage of the season, continued relentlessly along his way Friday toward a generally anticipated triumph in the $10,000 Goodall Round-Robin Golf Tournament.

The largest part of a second-day crowd of some 2,500 saw the Hershey (Pa.) lightweight fire a one-over-par 73 over the Winged Foot Golf Club's west course this morning to beat Lawson Little, 7 up, and Bob Hamilton, former PGA champ, 1 up, and then come back in the afternoon with a smooth 72. This was good enough for another six-hole margin over Sammy Byrd and a 2-up score against Lloyd Mangrum.

The day's efforts put his plus total at 25, with four rounds still to go, and left him the only man in the field with a winning score against each of six rivals. As a result, they were leafing back through the Goodall records and predicting Hogan, already the year's top money winner, will have set a new mark for plus points when the last putt has been holed Sunday afternoon.

The record now stands at 31 points, racked up by Harry Cooper in 1939.

Hogan led in points by 11 over Herman Barron. Barron beat three rivals and broke even with the fourth, Sam Snead, for a total of plus 14.

Back of Barron in the point score at plus 13 came Nelson, followed by Jug McSpaden, plus 11; Mangrum, plus 10; Keiser, plus 2, and Vic Ghezzi, plus 1. Lawson Little is the only man to be even.

PREP BASEBALLERS MAP PLANS TODAY

Plans for the Georgia State and Southeastern States High School Baseball Tournaments will be thrashed out at a dinner meeting at noon today in the Forsyth Room at the Ansley Hotel, it has been announced by S. F. Burke, of Thomaston, who is Secretary-Treasurer of the GHSA.

SMITHIES BEATEN FOR GIAA CROWN

MACON, May 31—(AP)—Lanier High's Poets of Macon made it two straight over Tech High of Atlanta Friday night and annexed the GIAA championship.

The home team beat the Smithies, 6-5, in the second of a two-out-of-three-game series for the title.

The victory automatically gives Lanier a place in the State Tournament in Atlanta.

Lanier went into an early lead with three runs in the second on three hits, a sacrifice and a couple of errors, and was never overtaken. The winning run in the fifth came on singles by Billy Henderson, Red Wilson and Laman Moates. Moates led the hitting with three for four.

G. Dahlbender Bids for Spot In U. S. Open

By BOB CAVAGNARO.

NEW YORK, May 31—(AP)—While virtually all of the pre-tournament favorites drew exemptions, upwards of 1,100 amateurs and professionals will engage in 36-hole medal play qualifying tests over 25 courses Monday for 130 berths in the United States Open golf championship, June 13-15. The open field will be made up of 172 players.

Forty-two players qualified automatically for the first postwar championship. Exempt were blond Craig Wood, holdover winner of the 1941 tournament, the last staged by the USGA; the lowest 30 scorers and ties in that tourney; former open champions; Marvin (Bud) Ward, the 1941 national amateur champion; PGA Titleholder Byron Nelson; Reigning British Open King Dick Burton; Frank Stranahan, who was eliminated from the British amateur championship yesterday, and tall Henry Picard, pro at the Canterbury Club, Cleveland, where the championship will be played.

Other prominent players who'll take the test include former National Amateur King George Von Elm, now a pro, and Willie Hunter, at Long Beach, Cal.; Art Doering, at Denver; Gene Dahlbender, Jr., promising young Atlanta amateur, at Birmingham; Bobby Cruickshank, at Bethesda, Md.; Alvin (Butch) Krueger, Joe Ezar, George Schneiter, Jock Hutchison, Sr. and Jr., and Amateur Wilfred Wehrle, at Chicago; Fred Haas, Sr. and Jr., at New Orleans; Al Watrous, at Detroit; Amateur Maurice McCarthy, Jr., at Cincinnati; Orville White, at Greensboro, N. C., and Rod Munday, at Kansas City.

Yankees Win; Keller Homers

NEW YORK, May 31 — (AP) — Aided by Charlie Keller's three-run homer in the first inning, the New York Yankees battered the Philadelphia Athletics under the lights Friday night, 8-1, to gain a half game on the pace-setting Boston Red Sox in the American League.

A crowd of 60,895 cash customers watched the Yanks pound Dick Fowler and Bob Savage for 10 hits, four of the runs coming in the first frame. The attendance brought the total paid for the series to 120,584 and 763,848 for 22 home games.

Mat Bill Set Here Tonight

Blond Buddy Rogers, current sensation of the wrestling profession, will be the featured participant on Promoter Paul Jones' all-star heavyweight grappling program tonight at the City Auditorium.

The California youngster, one of the best looking matmen in the game with the possible exception of Shirley Temple's brother, George, is a big favorite with local fans. He is scheduled to meet rugged Jim Cofield in the finale tonight, and Promoter Jones believes the bout will be hotly contested.

Sharing equal billing on tonight's program will be a blood-and-thunder grudge match between Bouncing Babe Zaharias and Al Massey, the hard punching Miamian. Both these matches will go one fall to a finish.

A team tag-go bringing Dick Lever and Wild Bill Collins against Kay Bell and Nick Carter will be sandwiched in between the two featured bouts and a 20-minute opener starring Jack Hader and Steve Martin, an ex-boxer, who will be making his first competitive start here.

Beau Jack Batters Greco for Decision

NEW YORK, May 31.—(AP)—Looking more like the windmill walloper he used to be and less like the Fancy Dan he tried to become lately without much luck, former Lightweight Champion Beau Jack punched out a ten-round decision over Johnny Greco, of Montreal, Friday night in Madison Square Garden. Jack weighed 141 1-2; Greco 146.

Throwing punches from all known angles—and inventing a few brand-new ones of his own—the one-time Augusta, Ga., shoeshine boy clobbered the Canadian all over the ring, opened a scratch over his right eye, had his nose and mouth bleeding and swollen and won about as he pleased.

At the same time, Greco made his fight on a pattern that gave you the idea he thought the little Negro was a distant relative of the headless horsemen because only on few and far between occasions did he level his sights and punches on Beau Jack's chin and face, preferring instead to peg away at the body and arms.

The decision was unanimous. A crowd of 11,407 chipped in to a gross gate of $66,922 to see the return match.

Exposition Mills Wins Over Colonial

Exposition Mills took a firmer grip on first place in the Scott League by downing second-place Colonial Stores, 6-2, at Glenn Field Wednesday as Wimpy Steele pitched five-hit, seven-strikeout ball and Whitlow, with a double and two singles, led the winners' attack.

Singley also had three blows and J. D. Stallings two for Exposition. Monsour's two for three was best for Colonial.

California-Born Bob Sweeny In Finals of British Amateur

BIRKDALE, England, May 31—(AP)—Bob Sweeny, London investment broker who was born in Pasadena, Cal., advanced to the final round of the British Amateur Golf Championship late today by eliminating Gerald Micklem, 5 and 4.

Sweeny, who won the British title in 1937, tomorrow meets Jimmie Bruen, of Ireland, in the 36-hole deciding match. Bruen defeated Harry Walker, 3 and 2, in their semi-final.

The American-born Sweeny was four up at the end of the first nine holes in the afternoon round, shooting par golf over the rain-swept course. Micklem, who yesterday sent Frank Stranahan, of Toledo, Ohio, to the sidelines, three-putted numerous greens in the downpour.

In the morning round Sweeny downed Hamilton Macinally, of Scotland, 1 up in 19 holes, while Micklem advanced at the expense of Cedric Griffith, 3 and 2.

CHANDLER IS BEST DICKEY ASSERTS

NEW YORK, May 31—(AP)—Mgr. Bill Dickey, of the New York Yankees, speaking today of Spud Chandler's 6-1 victory over Philadelphia, rated the Georgian "as the greatest pitcher I yet have caught." Dickey began catching for the Yankees in 1929.

Political Trend Toward Youth

Greatly to the surprise of the political experts, a crowd of young candidates, all of them ex-servicemen, ousted a long-established political set-up in North Carolina's Buncombe County, of which Asheville is the county seat.

Politicians who had been appearing before the people as candidates and as elected officials for a quarter of a century were swept out.

It is apparent that the younger people, and older ones who think like them, are going to the polls determined to sweep out the "old line" politicians with their corrupted and archaic line-ups.

The returning soldier, having seen the world, sees his own City, County and State in a new perspective. He wants to move forward and he is going to the polls to do just that.

Here in Georgia there is evidence that the returned soldier and the younger voters will join with the progressive adults who are no longer taken in by a wealth of promises and by the old, out-of-date political bunk.

Let every person who loves his State work toward the end that we do not turn the clock back.

Radicals and Conservatives

It was interesting to note, in the comments on the passing of Virginia's veteran Senator Carter Glass that all dwelt upon his conservative approach to public affairs and government. A few frankly called him a reactionary.

All this points a moral, which is that we are in a constantly changing condition; that the radical of today is the conservative of tomorrow.

Carter Glass once was considered a dangerous radical.

When Woodrow Wilson was elected President, he immediately saw the necessity of curbing what then was referred to as "the money power." A few powerful banks and financial institutions in New York tightly controlled the national currency and credit. Credit policies were dictated to the banks of the nation, all of which hurt the small farmer, merchant and manufacturer, and favored the large corporation.

Wilson, who had promised reform in his campaign, selected the eager Carter Glass, then in the House of Representatives, to lead the fight.

The powerful financial interests fought him every inch of the way. Newspapers favorable to corporation power, pictured him in cartoons as destroying the very foundations of the nation. He was called a dangerous radical, a Socialist, Communist and purveyor of a plan contrary to the American system. He pushed through the Federal Reserve System, bringing the money power under some restraints just as the power of trusts and railroads had been somewhat restricted by earlier fights.

This was the same Carter Glass who died as a pillar of conservatism, cheered and acclaimed by the reactionary conservatives of the country.

Mr. Pegler Throws In the Towel

We note that Mr. Westbrook Pegler has thrown in the towel. America, he says, is finished; the American way is no more.

Later news carries no message that Mr. Pegler has ended it all by gas or by leaping from a mesa, they abounding about his home at Tucson. The assumption is that he will go on.

It is interesting how many persons have, throughout our history, solemnly announced the demise of the American system of government, decrying a corrupt and cowardly Congress and the breakdown of law and order.

John Quincy Adams confided to his diary on July 30, 1834: "My hopes for the long continuance of this union are now extinct."

The Federalists, notably Hamilton, threw in the towel with Jefferson's coming. Justice Story led a group which notified the world of the death of the American system when Jackson was inaugurated. Justice Story said: "America is ended. Mob rule has taken over."

At the time of Cleveland, William Jennings Bryan and the Populist revolt led by Georgia's Tom Watson, many ministers joined in saying their ideas "were forged in hell" and the American way was ended if they became accepted.

Teddy Roosevelt, even, was accused by thundering orators and columnists of turning the nation over to the Socialists and of ruining the American system.

So it has gone. Somehow the United States keeps doing business at the same old stand, and somehow it slowly fulfills the meaning and intent of its way of life—to provide a government which brings security and an improving standard of living to its people.

We recommend for Mr. Pegler some liver pills.

Revolution in the Heart

Editor Constitution: Ralph McGill's column "A Symbol of Life—and More" struck in me a very responsive chord.

I greatly admire the Berry School and all it stands for, and while my eldest son, who was killed in Normandy, was not from Berry, the program he so graphically described might have been held at his high school, his college, or his medical college.

It is because of the greed you write of that I have thought all along that my son and the thousands like him did not give their lives for any lasting good, nor, so it seems, for any immediate good. Before any lasting and world-wide good can come from their sacrifice there must be a revolution in the hearts of men. And we can well ask that if such a cataclysm as the world has just experienced could not bring about a beneficent change, what can?

Our Benevolent Uncle

Editor Constitution: Your editorial of May 27 credited Uncle Sam with all the building program of the Rivers Administration. Uncle Sam was born and became grown along with the State of Georgia and he continues to live, even through Talmadge and Arnall Administrations. WPA, PWA and FERA lived through at least part of both of these administrations and neither of them nor any preceding administration has taken advantage of our Dear Uncle for the benefit of Georgia and Georgians.

Does The Constitution and its candidate believe that it's worth something to the people of Georgia for them to have a Governor who is able and willing to co-operate with the funds to which we are justly entitled? Ed Rivers not only gives credit to Uncle Sam with an assist, but boasts of his ability to get our Uncle to work with us.

Be fair! Print all the facts or none. JOHN ANDERSON.

Whitney's Remarks

Editor Constitution: After reading the statement by Whitney that he would spend "the $47,000,000 in R. R. Trainmen's Brotherhood Treasury" to defeat President Truman it seems to me that the time has arrived for said Brotherhood to secure a leader with some sense.

My father was a railroad engineer, killed on the job in 1900. A Brotherhood man, but one is convinced that John Austin Webb would never have subscribed to such sentiments as expressed by this Whitney. JOHN WEBB.

Doesn't Mean Communism

Editor Constitution: . . . Let the public own these utilities and the Nation its own natural resources. How? By the nationalization of the coal mines, the railroads, the oil fields and shipping. All employed in such pursuits will come under the jurisdiction of the Civil Service Commission. There will then be no question as to whether or not, some shivering family will be deprived of warmth or hard-working men and women denied transportation or even food, because of the capricious stupidity of certain labor leaders.

To settle the question once and for all time, let the people decide by national plebiscite for or against Government ownership of coal mines, railroads, oil fields and shipping.

Such legislation would pull the fangs of labor bosses inasmuch as it would remove the necessity of a miner, railroader, oil worker or seaman to join a union in order to hold down his job. Public ownership of natural resources and national utilities does not mean communism, it means freedom from tyranny and greed, and freedom from want and cold.

Forgotten Men

Editor Constitution: The OPA is increasing the price of children's shoes 10 percent. On my $100 allotment it's almost impossible to buy my two children shoes at the present price.

Frankly, I'm worried. It seems that the fathers now in the armed forces have really been forgotten. To my knowledge, after June 30 there has been no provision to release any man from the Army. Why can't the Army lower their discharge points as the Navy and Marines have done?

I wish someone would tell me, if they can, how in the world a woman with two growing children can feed and clothe them and provide a decent place for them to live on $100 a month at the rate prices are rising?

Most of the single boys and married men with no children are out of the Army, but the fathers of our country's future citizens are still in the Army. Yes, some will say the fathers were lucky that they didn't have to fight, but they went when they were called, and it looks as if they will stay for quite some time if the draft act isn't extended.

I think they are really the forgotten men.

Theater Lines

Editor Constitution: Some action should be taken to stop the forming of lines of ticket purchasers from the ticket windows of moving picture theaters to the curb. I have seen this situation at the Rialto and at all the theaters on Peachtree, including the Fox. Quite often, it is necessary for sidewalk pedestrians to walk out in the street to get by these lines. This condition could perhaps be remedied by putting up posters at the ticket windows suggesting that the line be formed alongside of the building, or the ticket sellers or policemen on the beats could make this suggestion where a line may extend from the window toward the curb.

'May the God of Mercies--'

When the first hospital was erected in the United States, Benjamin Franklin was asked to write the inscription for the cornerstone—this in 1755. He wrote:

In the year of Christ
MDCCLV
George the Second Happily Reigning
(For he sought the happiness of his people)
Philadelphia Flourishing
(For its inhabitants were publick spirited)
This Building
By the Bounty of the Government
And of Many Private Persons
Was Piously Founded
For the relief of the sick and miserable;
May the God of Mercies
Bless the Undertaking.

I always liked that and kept a clipping of it. It is possible to note that the old Democrat was inserting some of his philosophy into it, commenting on the fact George Second was happily reigning because he sought the happiness of his people.

I liked, too, his designation of the reason for a hospital—for the relief of the sick and miserable—and may the God of Mercies bless the undertaking.

I am reminded of all this by virtue of the fact that there is now current a campaign by St. Joseph's Hospital for funds to enlarge its capacity by a new wing and building.

Hospitals I think a lot of hospitals. Some of my deepest shocks and emotions have come to me in hospital rooms and corridors. The message of death has been given me in the shadowy hallway of the hospital, and of birth. I have waited in them long, weary hours while physicians and some higher wrestled with death in one of the rooms and emerged—days later—weary but victorious.

We haven't enough hospital beds in Atlanta. The city is growing and will continue to do so. It is going on to become a really great city.

It is not pleasant to have attention called to our lacks, but the fact is we have been lacking in not building more hospital capacity.

St. Joseph's is managed by Catholic sisters. They are patient, good, hard-working women, giving their entire life to this service to the sick and the miserable . . . without reward on earth save that which comes inwardly through service. But the hospital is in no sense a Catholic hospital. It would not matter if it were. But it isn't. Most of its patients, at least 90 percent of them, are members of other faiths.

They are just the sick and the miserable.

Giving It is true there are many appeals. All are worthy. But, in giving to a hospital one gives to generations. One gives to the development and growth of a city. One gives to help create all the things that make a city good and desirable.

Many who will never be patients there. Many who may contemplate giving may be saying that in their minds. That isn't the point. Someone will go, someone who is sick and miserable. There will be pay patients and there will be those who cannot pay. There will be—and this is what is important—an increase of hospital service . . . one of the factors which build a city and make it a better place in which to live. We all are a part of our city. It is no better than we. And no stronger.

"May the God of Mercies bless the undertaking."

Labor Suffers by Attitude to Press

It is my impression that one of the principal reasons why the labor side of many labor-management disputes is not so fully understood as it should, and could, be, is the peculiar treatment so often extended to reporters by labor leaders.

The newspapers, by and large—there may be a few, a very few, exceptions—are just as anxious to make public the union arguments and the union case as they are that of management. The difficulty is, many labor leaders refuse to speak frankly and as friends to reporters. On the other hand, management has always been cordial and, on the surface at least, frank and informative. Management simply realizes the importance of friendship with the men of the working press. Some labor leaders do, too, but too many of them seem to take it for granted any publicity will hurt their case.

Take, as perhaps an extreme example, John L. Lewis. He will, I understand, talk occasionally for a special writer. But his usual reaction to the working, newspaper press is the brusk brush-off.

I recall, from personal experience, the difference in treatment accorded me, as a reporter, when strikes were in progress. Management was always cordial, friendly and, with few exceptions, willing to answer questions and to talk with obvious—perhaps too obvious—frankness.

On the other hand, labor leaders too often expected the reporter to be content with an occasional written handout that said as little as possible.

Furthermore, strikers had a silly habit of barring all reporters from their meetings. Rarely was anything said at such meetings that couldn't be quoted, but almost always reporters were halted at the door and refused admission. How much better it would be, from the labor standpoint, if they welcomed reporters to their meetings and abandoned the "hush-hush" policies.

Too Late Another habit common to labor circles is to forget the press until after the damage has been done. They will brush off or ignore conscientious reporters during, say, negotiations. They strike, and public opinion turns into anger against the strikers, for the suffering and inconvenience caused.

Then, when labor has thus gained for itself a bad public opinion, they will, often, seek justification through the press, trying to tell their own side of the story. And, oftentimes, had they frankly told that side earlier, public opinion would have been far more favorable than it was to their cause throughout.

Their Own Press There are labor publications, put out by labor organizations. For instance, there is the CIO News, which comes to my desk regularly. It carries a lot of editorialized articles in support of the CIO. It paints management in a vicious role. It is full of demands and hothead arguments.

It is, in short, so obviously propaganda no responsible newspaper could depend upon it as a source of information.

Management may, in some cases, present a misleading picture, tell an intrinsically false story of conditions. But, at all times, management assumes an open, frank attitude. It goes out of its way to be friendly to all reporters, famous or unknown.

If labor acted the same way, coverage of labor-management disputes would be far better, far more complete. A good newspaper always wants the fullest news from both sides. If one side adopts a rule of contemptuous silence, the press is not at fault if its efforts to uncover the news are futile.

OLLIE REEVES

"Although shortages of bread may exist for a time, there will be ample supplies of cereals, including many breakfast foods."—Quoted from food column.

There isn't a doubt we can do without a lot of our daily bread,
Without a supply of the wheat and rye we can still be amply fed
If we get enough of the breakfast stuff "the plump and delicious grains
The makers prepare with a world of care and infinite love and pains."

"Ah, here is a dish that a king might wish was part of his daily fare,
It's made of the tops of the finest hops from plants that are very rare;
It's something to suit when it's topped with fruit and sugar and milk or whey,
A hungry man's dream when it's drenched in cream" . . . well, so is a bale of hay.

We relish the ones that are shot from guns and claimed as the leading brand,
And the product that comes from the steaming drums untouched by a human hand;
With jubilant cries, young and old arise when the breakfast is steaming bran,
It's fine for a kid, just see what it did for people like Super-man.

So give us our oats and we'll join the goats, the horses, the cows and calves,
Don't let it be said we will cry for bread, we never do things by halves—
They are excellent treats but with cream and sweets and fruit they must be disguised,
Or the tale will be done with chapter one and we'll never be cereal-ized.

Not Playing the Same Game

ROBERT QUILLEN

Letter to Red-head

My Dear Louise:

This week I will tell you a story.

Michael O'Toole sat on his front steps an hour before noon enjoying the sunshine. He was a handsome young man, with a charming smile and a civil tongue, and everybody liked him while he was sober; but he often got drunk and then he was mean and nobody liked him.

Sitting there, he saw a stranger stop at the front gate. The stranger wore a long-tailed coat and striped pants and a high hat.

"He doesn't belong in these parts," said Michael, "and no rich gentleman would stop to see me. 'Tis the Devil himself, I am sure."

"Good day," said the stranger, "could I have a word with you?"

"That you can," said Michael, "and I know what it will be. When I fell into the river two weeks ago, I promised to quit drinking if I got out, but I was drunk the next Saturday."

"That was bad," said the stranger, "but I have other business. I am late for a wedding at the big house on the hill and I thought you might show me the short cut."

A year later Michael sat on his front steps, still weak from a spell of flu and pneumonia. Again the stranger appeared, carrying a rod and dressed as a rich man is when he goes fishing.

"Could I have another word with you?" he asked.

"You needn't waste breath," said Michael, "for I know what you have to say. When I seemed to be dying of pneumonia, I was that scared I promised to drink no more if I got well. But I have a hangover this morning from being drunk last night."

"You are asking for trouble," said the stranger, "but it isn't my affair. Can you tell me whether the big trout in the lower pool has been caught yet?"

"Not to my knowledge," said Michael, and his voice shook, for he thought he smelled brimstone.

A year later, Michael was on trial for beating up a friend while crazy drunk. The jury found him guilty, but the judge was a politician and reluctant to send a voter to jail.

"Michael," said he, "if you will promise to quit drinking, and if some good man will go bond for you, I will put you on probation in his custody for a year and not send you to jail."

Nobody spoke. Michael looked around and saw the stranger sitting by a window. "Nobody is interested in me," said Michael, "except the Devil there by the window, and I'll ask no help of him."

"He isn't the Devil," said the judge. He is Mr. Black, a rich philanthropist who comes here for the fishing. He helps people who are in trouble." He looked at the stranger and said: "Mr. Black, will you go bond for Michael?"

"I'm sorry," said Mr. Black, "but his word is no good. If he won't keep a promise to keep out of Hell, he won't do it to keep out of jail."

That's the story. Try it on for size. Love, DAD.

GEORGIA EDITORS SAY:

CARMICHAEL VS. THE FIELD
(Walker County Messenger)

At present it seems that the two ex-Governors, Rivers and Talmadge, and the new candidate, James V. Carmichael, will hold the spotlight in the Governor's race, despite the fact that two other lesser lights are in.

The way it stacks up right now it appears that Carmichael is against the field of former Governors. He is the one it appears the former war-horses in Georgia are after. It must mean that they think he is the strongest contender and that all guns must be turned on him if they have a chance. And indeed, this is just about the situation.

Albany Grows Like a Nylon Line

ALBANY, Ga.—This town is growing faster than a nylon line.

You ask Henry McIntosh what the population is and he says 30,000.

A little later you put the same question to Hollis Lanier and the answer is 35,000.

You tell Hollis what Henry said and he replies: "Oh, that was an hour ago."

Seriously, new industries are arriving daily by plane, train and walking cane.

Albany looks, acts and smells prosperous.

And the Chamber of Commerce, which aims to keep it that way, has a couple of sniffing committees out nosing around paper pulp mills before it gives the nod to one which wants to locate here.

Incidentally, the manager of the Chamber of Commerce did such a convincing job of enumerating Albany's opportunities that finally, unable to resist himself any longer, he is resigning to open a business here of his own.

For the benefit of those who have been inquiring: The famous old Atlanta spirit isn't dead. It just moved to Albany.

GLADSTONE WILLIAMS

Effects of Bold Action By Truman Considered

WASHINGTON—President Truman's bold measures for meeting the crisis brought on by the rail and coal strikes may have precipitated the issue on which his administration will stand or fall.

It is too early yet to appraise the political effect of what he has done. For the moment, or until events clarify themselves, it is only possible to enumerate some of the contingencies involved.

One of these that has far-reaching implications concerns the attitude of labor. If labor, which for the past 12 years has been predominantly Democratic in its leanings, should veer away from the President as a result of his drastic recommendations to Congress, then Mr. Truman, it would seem, faces an uncertain political future.

The importance of the labor vote to the Democratic ticket may be seen from the two past presidential elections. It is doubtful that President Roosevelt could have won either in 1940 or in 1944 without the overwhelming support he received from labor.

But another compensating possibility is that Mr. Truman, by virtue of his action, may gain enough support from other sources to make up for what he loses from labor.

The initial reaction from the country indicates that he may well do this. Nothing a President has done in years seems to have met with such general commendation. The response has been terrific.

7,000 Telegrams White House attaches say that the President received the greatest deluge of telegrams that has been seen in 50 years. Charles G. Ross, Presidential Press Secretary, estimated that more than 7,000 came in over the weekend after Mr. Truman's dramatic appearance before Congress—the great majority of them "overwhelmingly in favor of the President's position."

The thing about the President's action that made it popular with the country was that it was in keeping with the thinking of the average man.

Regardless of the merits of the rail controversy, it was unthinkable that a small body of some 250,000 workers should be allowed to paralyze the economy of a great nation of 140,000,000 people through tying up the vital transportation system of the country.

Mr. Truman, however friendly he may have been to the cause of labor, simply could not allow this to be done. He had a responsibility to the nation that could not be ignored.

The leader of the Trainmen's Brotherhood, one of the two unions that brought on the rail strike, has announced in a spirit of vengeance that his organization will spend all of the $47,000,000 in its treasury to defeat the re-election of President Truman.

That is a threat which, taken alone, need not give the President's managers any grave concern.

Only 250,000 Workers After all, there are only some quarter of a million workers in the two unions calling the rail strike, and what they do in the next presidential election should not be decisive. What does count will be the general attitude of labor. If organized labor as a whole should take a hostile attitude toward the President because of his forthright position on strikes in vital key industries, then it is possible to see where his political future is in jeopardy.

Thus far there has been no indication that this will be the case. Quite the contrary, in fact, has been indicated in some of the labor comments.

There is the statement, for example, of T. C. Cashen, President of the Switchmen's Union, one of the rail unions which was not involved in the strike. Asked if he thought the President's position in the strike crisis had injured his political prestige, the union leader replied: "No, I don't think so. Why should labor criticize him for doing the only thing he could do under the circumstances?"

That may turn out to reflect the general attitude of labor, excepting some of the recalcitrants like John L. Lewis and the leader of the Trainmen's Brotherhood, who has sworn to get the President.

Mr. Truman's labor background is such that it is hardly likely any general revolt of the working people will arise against him. During the 10 years he was a member of the Senate he voted for practically all of the forward-looking measures proposed in the interest of labor. It will be difficult for this record to be erased by a single act, conceived and executed in the national interest.

In the end, therefore, the revolt of the Trainmen's Brotherhood may amount to no more than the revolt of John L. Lewis against President Roosevelt in 1940. Lewis was not even able to control the votes of his United Mine Workers.

At the moment the President seems to have gained rather than lost by his action.

Writer Blasts Selfish Interests In Home Building

By KATHERINE BARNWELL.

Hammering home his belief that "The people's housing is the people's business," Robert Lasch, Chicago newspaperman and author, told a group of Atlanta builders and public housing officials here yesterday that housing in America has been left too long to "me first" interests.

"By these," he said, "I mean the hordes of contractors, subcontractors, mortgage bankers, real estate profiteers and reactionary labor unions who think only of the profits they will get from building."

Lasch, a dynamic, youthful-appearing newspaperman's newspaperman, believes that a national housing policy is essential if the people of this country are to be "well-housed."

Author of "Breaking the Building Blockade" and a number of magazine articles on building, Lasch is on a nation-wide tour sponsored by the government to present his authoritative ideas on housing.

He said he became interested in housing after building a house of his own, and he voluntarily added the housing "beat" to his daily press routine as columnist and editorial writer for the Chicago Sun.

Lasch, whose writings have won the admiration and respect of top housing experts everywhere, began his journalism career as a cub police reporter on the Lincoln (Neb.) Star. He still is a working newspaperman, he said, explaining:

"I'm just playing hookey now."

Lasch thinks 15,000,000 new homes should and will be built in the United States in the next ten years. To do the job right, he advocates the following program:

1. Reduction of costs of building, financing and maintenance of owner-occupied houses. (Although this is essential, he admits it will be difficult.)

2. Sharing of housing costs among the people as a whole through subsidized public housing.

3. Redevelopment of urban slums into healthful, livable communities.

4. Nation and city planning of communities to serve the best interests and welfare of all the people.

Lasch, a Rhodes scholar and holder of the Nieman fellowship in 1944, won the $1,000 Atlantic Monthly prize for an article on freedom of the press.

"My opinion of the press," he said yesterday, "is still pretty unfavorable. Newspapers too often are run by editors and publishers to serve their own purposes rather than the people. I believe that unless the press gets 'big men' as editors and publishers, its influence will continue to decline."

Decentralized Germany Asked By Jan Smuts

LONDON, May 31—(AP)—Field Marshal Jan Christiaan Smuts, Premier of South Africa and elder British statesman, urged Friday night that Germany be decentralized to form a federal system which could not threaten world peace and which could join the United Nations some day.

He called for a "revision and reversal" of the Allied occupation policy in a Union Day broadcast.

Smuts declared that the United States and Russia "have come to dominate the East and West of this globe," and added:

"It is unique, almost frightening situation of a world lapsing into dualism."

Urging German decentralization, he said:

"But do not attempt to destroy a great, historic people or their homeland or their means of livelihood. The attempt will not only be a crime but an error doomed to failure and the failure may be as great as the original offense of Germany. As a vast depressed area—human and economic—she may become a center of infection which may poison much of the continent."

Vinson Charter Speaker

DUBLIN, May 31—Congressman Carl Vinson was speaker at the Junior Chamber of Commerce Friday dinner when that body received its charter from Frank Pierce, of Augusta, State President of the Jaycees. Mayor C. Flannery Pope was also on the program of speakers.
